

How many Troops

Wish they were home right now?

Thanksgiving may be a nice holiday for some, but right now many Soldiers are being forced to serve in Iraq - Against their will - Stop Loss orders force Troops to continue serving even when their commitment is fulfilled.

When did this become acceptable?

They signed up to protect our country now they're stuck in Iraq protecting profits for Halliburton and the oil companies. We shouldn't even be there,

Iraq never was a threat.

The Downing Street Memo revealed the "facts were being fixed around the policy" Planning the war in 2002, they made up a pack of lies to sell it. The Niger Uranium forgery, Blair's phony Dossier, "Mushroom Cloud", UAVs capable of hitting the East Coast. All of it was wrong. They "fixed the facts".

UK Ministry of Defense Leaked Poll: 82% of Iraqis "strongly oppose" presence of occupation

How can we say we're spreading freedom and democracy when we ignore the will of most Iraqis?

Buried by the Corporate Media

Only 750 out of 200,000 Iraqi soldiers are capable of operating independently.

$8.8 Billion 'Lost' by US.

Halliburton pumping oil that's not even metered.

Tons of Depleted Uranium (Radioactive waste) spread across Iraq, poisoning our own troops and Iraqis for generations to come.
